Re: Freedom of Information Act Request / Expedited Processing Requested

To Whom This May Concern:

This letter is a request for records (“Request”) made pursuant to the Freedom of Information Act (“FOIA”), 5 U.S.C. § 552 et seq., and the relevant implementing regulations, see 6 C.F.R. § 5 et seq. (Department of Homeland Security, Disclosure of Records and Information). The Request is submitted by the American Civil Liberties Union Foundation of Arizona and the American Civil Liberties Union Foundation of San Diego and Imperial Counties (collectively, “ACLU” or “Requesters”).

Requesters seek the disclosure of records related to abuse and mistreatment of children in the custody of U.S. Customs and Border Protection (“CBP”) and its sub-agency, the U.S. Border Patrol.

BACKGROUND

Abuse and mistreatment of children in Border Patrol custody has been documented consistently for years. Advocates and academics have issued numerous reports and filed hundreds of complaints with Department of Homeland Security (“DHS”) oversight bodies describing Border Patrol agents’ abusive treatment of children, as well as the inhumane

1 The American Civil Liberties Union Foundation is a 26 U.S.C. § 501(c)(3) organization that provides legal representation free of charge to individuals and organizations in civil rights and civil liberties cases, educates the public about civil rights and civil liberties issues across the country, provides analyses of pending and proposed legislation, directly lobbies legislators, and mobilizes the ACLU’s members to lobby their legislators.
conditions of confinement experienced by both children and adults in Border Patrol detention facilities. To cite just a few recent examples:

- A 2014 policy brief based on interviews with 224 children documented extremely cold temperatures in detention facilities and found that more than half of the children interviewed had been placed in three-point shackles (affixed at the wrists, waist, and ankles).²
- A 2012 report based on interviews with 151 children found nearly all reporting mistreatment suffered while in Border Patrol custody, including verbal and physical abuse by agents and destruction of personal property.³
- A 2011 report based in part on interviews with 801 children documented extremely cold temperatures in detention facilities, severe overcrowding, unsanitary detention conditions, verbal and physical abuse, and denial of food, water and medical treatment.⁴
- A 2009 report based on interviews with 124 unaccompanied children found: eighty-five percent of the children had been held in excessively cold rooms; thirty-three percent received food less than three times per day; twenty-five percent were not offered water; and roughly half were denied the opportunity to call an attorney, consular official, or family member.⁵
- A 2008 report based on interviews with more than 200 children documented overcrowded CBP detention facilities where children were made to sleep on cold floors with minimal or no bedding, denied adequate food and water, and refused access to showers and telephones for days on end.⁶ The report also included multiple accounts of verbal and physical abuse by Border Patrol agents.⁷

On June 11, 2014, the ACLU and partner organizations submitted an administrative complaint on behalf of 116 children to DHS oversight agencies, alleging abuse and mistreatment of children in Border Patrol custody.⁸ Approximately one in four of these children reported

physical abuse, including sexual assault, beatings, and the use of stress positions by Border Patrol agents. More than half of the children reported various forms of verbal abuse, including death threats. Roughly the same number reported denial of medical care, including several who eventually required hospitalization. Many reported being detained without blankets and having to sleep on the floors of unsanitary, overcrowded, and frigid cells. More than eighty percent described inadequate provision of food and water, while thirty percent reported that Border Patrol agents had confiscated their money and/or personal belongings and had not returned them. Many children reported being chained in three-point shackles during transport.

In response to the administrative complaint, CBP leadership and DHS’ Office of Inspector General (“OIG”) initially indicated they would conduct a thorough investigation of these allegations. CBP Commissioner R. Gil Kerlikowske, however, immediately began to downplay and even to mischaracterize the allegations. Meanwhile, DHS OIG has issued three “interim reports” concluding that detention conditions and “Border Patrol capacity to provide care” have “improved,” while attributing at least some of the unsanitary conditions reported to the children themselves. In response, the American Immigration Council commented, “Considering the extensive documentation of abusive conditions in [Border Patrol detention facilities]—which include the testimonials of those held in these facilities—it is difficult to take the OIG reports seriously.”

Notwithstanding its acknowledgment of “recurring problems” in CBP detention facilities, on October 6, 2014—less than four months after it first announced its intent to launch

a full investigation of the inhumane conditions and abuse—DHS OIG announced it would be “curtailing routine inspections.”

The years of persistent allegations of child abuse in CBP detention facilities suggest that CBP policies and practices are plagued by systemic problems. Equally troubling is the apparent failure of DHS oversight agencies to take corrective action and ensure agent accountability following instances of child abuse. Over the past few years, DHS oversight bodies have repeatedly ignored administrative complaints documenting hundreds of individual cases of CBP’s mistreatment of children. For example, from 2009 to 2011, the non-governmental organization No More Deaths and its partner organizations filed seventy-five complaints with DHS oversight agencies regarding Border Patrol abuses; the complainants did not receive a single response.

Child advocates have also filed numerous complaints with DHS, only to be ignored outright or, at best, dismissed out of hand. Advocates report that, even when investigations have been conducted, those investigations lack transparency and often involve interviews of children characterized by inappropriate and even hostile interview techniques. Despite the overwhelming number of alleged violations, few Border Patrol agents are known to have faced any disciplinary action for abusing children in custody.

By failing to meaningfully investigate or otherwise respond to consistent reports of systemic abuse, DHS and CBP officials have demonstrated a continuing disregard for the civil and human rights of children in their custody, and may have violated state and federal child abuse reporting laws.

REQUESTERS

The ACLU is a national, non-partisan organization of more than a half million members, countless additional activists and supporters, and fifty-three affiliates nationwide. The ACLU is dedicated to the defense of civil rights and civil liberties and to holding the U.S. government accountable to principles of due process and of the U.S. Constitution in general. The ACLU of Arizona and the ACLU of San Diego & Imperial Counties (“ACLU-SDIC”) are two of the ACLU’s local affiliates.

DEFINITIONS

“Records”—all records or communications preserved in electronic or written form, including but not limited to: agreements; correspondence; documents; letters; notes; messages; emails; faxes; data; videotapes; audio tapes; files; forms; logs; records; guidance; guidelines; evaluations; audits; investigations; reviews; studies; reports; critiques; analysis; internal

memoranda; legal opinions; orders; guidance; directives; training materials; criteria; standards; specifications; rules; instructions; manuals; advisories; protocols; procedures; policies; or other communications.

“DHS” includes any sub-agency within the Department of Homeland Security, including Immigration and Customs Enforcement (ICE), Customs and Border Protection (CBP) and U.S. Border Patrol, as well as all DHS oversight agencies (including the Office of Inspector General, CBP Internal Affairs, ICE Office of Professional Responsibility, and the Office of Civil Rights and Civil Liberties).

“Child” or “Children” means any individual or individuals under the age of eighteen detained by CBP or U.S. Border Patrol.

RECORDS REQUESTED

Requesters seek disclosure of DHS Records pertaining to alleged or actual mistreatment of children in DHS custody from January 1, 2009 to the present, including any such Records held by Border Patrol, CBP, or any other DHS component agencies, to include at least:

1. All Records relating to any alleged or actual verbal, physical, and/or sexual abuse of children in DHS custody, including, but not limited to, any incidents resulting in hospitalization.

2. All Records related to DHS compliance with child abuse reporting requirements under state and federal law, including but not limited to the Victims of Child Abuse Act of 1990; 42 U.S.C. § 13031; 8 C.F.R. § 81.2–81.3.

3. All Records related to DHS implementation of and compliance with the Prison Rape Elimination Act (“PREA”).

4. All Records relating to
   a. complaints of alleged or actual verbal, physical, and/or sexual abuse of children in DHS custody, and

16 Please note: Should any responsive Record contain the personal identifying information of any third party, Requesters ask that the agencies redact that information. This Request does not seek any personal or identifying information about any specific individual(s).

17 According to the U.S. Department of Justice, 42 U.S.C. § 13031 “is best read to impose a reporting obligation on all persons who, while engaged in the covered professions and activities on federal lands or in federal facilities, learn of facts that give reason to suspect that child abuse has occurred, regardless of where the abuse might have occurred or where the suspected victim is cared for or resides.” See U.S. DEPARTMENT OF JUSTICE, OFFICE OF LEGAL COUNSEL, ASSISTANT ATTORNEY GENERAL’S MEMORANDUM FOR THE GENERAL COUNSEL, UNITED STATES DEPARTMENT OF VETERANS AFFAIRS 5 (May 29, 2012), available at http://1.usa.gov/1p20X39. Further, “the statute does not require a covered professional to possess knowledge of the identity of an affected child in order for the reporting duty to apply.” Id. at 2.
b. complaints regarding conditions of confinement experienced by children in DHS custody submitted to any DHS entity by any person, non-governmental organization, state or federal government agency, tribal government, consular office, or any other entity, whether verbal or written, and all Records related or responding to any such complaints.

5. All Records relating to
   a. the three interim reports regarding Oversight of Unaccompanied Alien Children prepared by DHS OIG dated July 30, 2014, August 28, 2014, and October 2, 2014;
   b. DHS OIG’s decision, announced in a press release dated October 6, 2014, that it would begin curtailing its routine inspections at detention facilities for unaccompanied children;
   c. any investigations by any DHS entity resulting from any complaints of alleged or actual verbal, physical, and/or sexual abuse of children in DHS custody; and
   d. any investigations by any DHS entity resulting from any complaints regarding conditions of confinement experienced by children in DHS custody including all policies, protocols, or other guidelines for conducting investigations involving child complainants, and records sufficient to show the current status of all such investigations conducted from January 1, 2009 to the present.

6. All disciplinary Records resulting from alleged or actual misconduct by DHS officials involving children in DHS custody, including any violation of state or federal law or Border Patrol, CBP, and/or DHS guidelines related to the treatment of children in DHS custody or conditions of confinement experienced by children in DHS custody.

With respect to the form of production, see 5 U.S.C. § 552(a)(3)(B), we request that responsive documents be provided electronically in text-searchable, static-image format (PDF), in the best image quality in the agencies’ possession. We further request that reasonable metadata be transmitted along with responsive documents, including but not limited to email attachments, author and recipient information, date and time stamps, and the like.

REQUEST FOR expedited processing

Requesters seek Track 1 expedited processing for this FOIA request, pursuant to 5 U.S.C. § 552(a)(6)(E)(i) (“Each agency shall promulgate regulations, pursuant to notice and receipt of public comment, providing for expedited processing of requests for records—(I) in cases in which the person requesting the records demonstrates a compelling need. . . .”).

A “compelling need” exists when “a failure to obtain requested records on an expedited basis under this paragraph could reasonably be expected to pose an imminent threat to the life or physical safety of an individual.” 5 U.S.C. § 552(a)(6)(E)(v)(I); see also 6 C.F.R. § 5.5(d)(1)(i). Without expedited disclosure of the requested records, children in CBP custody may face continuing, imminent threats to their lives or physical safety. This is particularly true given the volume of alleged abuses outlined above. Several of the reports and complaints cited above include allegations of children physically and sexually abused, denied medical care, and/or held in life-threatening conditions. Multiple reports and complaints cite to examples of children who required hospitalization after suffering mistreatment in CBP custody. There is thus a “compelling need” for the requested records.”.

A compelling need can also be demonstrated “with respect to a request made by a person primarily engaged in disseminating information,” by an “urgency to inform the public concerning actual or alleged Federal Government activity.” 5 U.S.C. § 552(a)(6)(E)(v)(II); 6 C.F.R. § 5.5 (d)(1)(ii).

Dissemination of information to the public about actual or alleged government activity is a critical and substantial component of the ACLU’s mission and work. Specifically, the ACLU publishes a continuously updated blog, newsletters, news briefings, “Know Your Rights” documents, and other educational and informational materials that are broadly disseminated to the public. Such material is widely available to everyone, including individuals, tax-exempt organizations, not-for-profit groups, law students, and faculty, for no cost or for a nominal fee through the ACLU’s public education department and website.

The ACLU’s national website (www.aclu.org) and the sites run by the ACLU of Arizona (www.acluaz.org) and the ACLU of San Diego (www.aclusandiego.org) address civil rights and civil liberties issues in depth, provide features on civil rights and civil liberties issues in the news, and contain many thousands of documents relating to the issues on which the ACLU is focused. These websites also include features highlighting information obtained through the FOIA process.

In addition, the ACLU publishes a newsletter at least twice a year that reports on and analyzes civil liberties-related current events; this publication is distributed to approximately 450,000 people. The ACLU also publishes a bi-weekly electronic newsletter, which is distributed to approximately 300,000 subscribers (both ACLU members and non-members) by e-mail. Both of these newsletters often include descriptions and analyses of information obtained through the FOIA process.

She was placed into a cell with no dry clothes or blankets for her or the baby. Carmen requested something to keep the baby warm since it was so cold in the cell and all she had was wet clothing. The agents refused. By morning Lily was turning blue. Carmen begged the agents for help. Finally they looked at baby Lily and took her to the emergency room. Carmen was placed in shackles. Doctors at the emergency room said that Lily was suffering from hypothermia and that she had contracted pneumonia. They gave her antibiotics and kept her in the hospital for 24 hours. During that time Carmen was shackled and nurses were not allowed to give her any food.”).

19 See, e.g., Dan Gillmor, In Praise of the Almost-Journalists, Slate (Mar. 28, 2014, 12:29 PM), http://slate.me/1jg5YXx (describing ACLU’s efforts to broadly disseminate important civil rights-related news stories) (last visited Dec. 1, 2014).

from the government through FOIA, as well as information about cases, governmental policies, pending legislation, abuses of constitutional rights, and polling data. Cf. Electronic Privacy Information Center v. Department of Defense, 241 F. Supp. 2d 5, 13–14 (D.D.C. 2003) (finding the Electronic Privacy Information Center to be a representative of the news media under Department of Defense regulations because it published a “bi-weekly electronic newsletter that is distributed to over 15,000 readers” about “court cases and legal challenges, government policies, legislation, civil rights, surveys and polls, legislation, privacy abuses, international issues, and trends and technological advancements.”).

The ACLU also regularly publishes books, “Know Your Rights” publications, fact sheets, and educational brochures and pamphlets designed to educate the public about civil liberties issues and governmental policies that implicate civil rights and liberties. These materials are specifically designed to be educational and widely disseminated to the public. See Elec. Privacy Info. Ctr., 241 F. Supp. 2d at 11 (finding the Electronic Privacy Information Center to be a news-media requester because of its publication and distribution of seven books on privacy, technology, and civil liberties). The ACLU further disseminates information to the public via social media platforms such as Facebook and Twitter.

Depending on the results of this request, the ACLU plans to disseminate the information it receives among the public through these kinds of publications in these kinds of channels. The ACLU is therefore an organization “primarily engaged in disseminating information” within the meaning of the statute and the relevant regulations—as has been previously recognized in FOIA litigation between the ACLU and the Department of Justice. See, e.g., ACLU v. Department of Justice, 321 F. Supp. 2d 24, 30 n.5 (D.D.C. 2004) (finding that a non-profit, public-interest group that “gathers information of potential interest to a segment of the public, uses its editorial skills to turn the raw material into a distinct work, and distributes that work to an audience” is “primarily engaged in disseminating information” (internal citation omitted)).

Moreover, this request concerns actual or alleged federal government activity that is a matter of current exigency. As discussed above, allegations of the abuse and neglect of children CBP custody have persisted for years. As these conditions have worsened, the maltreatment of children in CBP custody and the dysfunction of DHS oversight agencies have attracted considerable, sustained media coverage and public attention in recent months.\(^{21}\)

For all of the foregoing reasons, expedited processing of this Request is warranted and should be granted.

Requesters hereby certify that the foregoing is true and correct to the best of their knowledge and belief. 5 U.S.C. § 552(a)(6)(E)(vi); 6 C.F.R. § 5.5(d)(3).

REQUEST FOR A WAIVER OR LIMITATION OF SEARCH AND REVIEW FEES

Requesters further seek a waiver of processing (search and review) fees because disclosure of these records is in the public interest and because the ACLU qualifies as a “representative of the news media.” See 5 U.S.C. § 552(a)(4)(A)(iii) (“Documents shall be furnished without any charge or at a charge reduced below the fees established under clause (ii) if disclosure of the information is in the public interest because it is likely to contribute significantly to public understanding of the operations or activities of the government and is not primarily in the commercial interest of the requester.”); 6 C.F.R. § 5.11(d)(1) (search fees shall not be charged “for requests by educational institutions . . . or representatives of the news media”); id. § 5.11(k)(1) (“Records responsive to a request will be furnished without charge or at a charge reduced below that established under paragraph (c) of this section where a component determines, based on all available information, that the requester has demonstrated that (i) disclosure of the requested information is in the public interest because it is likely to contribute significantly to public understanding of the operations or activities of the government; and (ii) disclosure of the information is not primarily in the commercial interest of the requester.”). As discussed below, federal agencies routinely grant such fee waivers for FOIA requests made by the ACLU for these reasons.

At a minimum, should a total fee waiver be denied, “fees should be limited to reasonable standard charges for document duplication” because the ACLU is a “representative of the news media” and the records are not sought for commercial use. 5 U.S.C. § 552(a)(4)(A)(ii)(II).

A. Release of the requested records is in the public interest.

The records requested will contribute significantly to public understanding of the government’s operations or activities. Under 6 C.F.R. § 5.11(k)(2), the following factors are to be considered in determining whether a disclosure is in the public interest: (i) whether the subject of the requested records concerns “the operations or activities of the government”; (ii) whether the disclosure is “likely to contribute” to an understanding of government operations or activities; (iii) whether disclosure of the requested information will contribute to “public understanding,” that is, “the understanding of a reasonably broad audience of persons interested in the subject”; and (iv) whether disclosure is likely to contribute “significantly” to public understanding of government operations or activities. See 6 C.F.R. § 5.11(k)(2)(i)–(iv). Each of these considerations is satisfied here.

First, the records requested pertain directly to the operations and activities of the federal government (specifically, CBP and one of its subcomponents, the U.S. Border Patrol).

Second, this Request is “likely to contribute” to an understanding of government operations or activities, specifically by helping the public determine whether minors encountered, apprehended, and/or detained by CBP or the U.S. Border Patrol are treated in a manner that comports with the U.S. Constitution and other federal laws, and whether CBP personnel are properly investigated and held accountable when they fail to respect those laws.

Third, disclosure of the requested information will contribute to “the understanding of a reasonably broad audience of persons interested in the subject” of how minors in CBP custody are treated. Among other things, the ACLU intends to publish responsive records and analyze specific documents to raise public awareness of CBP’s treatment of minors, generally.

Finally, disclosure will contribute “significantly” to the public understanding of CBP and Border Patrol treatment of minors in custody. As noted, the question of minors’ treatment in CBP custody has garnered significant and sustained public and media attention, yet much remains unknown about this critical human rights issue.

Requesters have thus established, “with reasonable specificity[,] that [their] request pertains to operations of the government,” and “the informative value of a request depends not on there being certainty of what the documents will reveal, but rather on the requesting party having explained with reasonable specificity how those documents would increase public knowledge of the functions of the government.” Citizens for Responsibility and Ethics in 2006).

B. Disclosure of the information requested is not in Requesters’ commercial interest.
Disclosure of the information requested is not in the Requesters’ commercial interest. Any information obtained as a result of this FOIA request will be made available to the public at no cost.

C. The ACLU qualifies as a representative of the news media.
The ACLU meets the statutory and regulatory definitions of a “representative of the news media” because it is an “entity that gathers information of potential interest to a segment of the public, uses its editorial skills to turn the raw materials into a distinct work, and distributes that work to an audience.” 5 U.S.C. § 552(a)(4)(A)(ii)(II); see also, e.g., National Security Archive v.
Department of Defense, 880 F.2d 1381, 1387 (D.C. Cir. 1989). The ACLU is a “representative of the news media” for the same reasons that it is “primarily engaged in the dissemination of information.” See Electronic Privacy Information Center, 241 F. Supp. 2d at 10–15 (finding non-profit public interest group that disseminated an electronic newsletter and published books was a “representative of the news media” for FOIA purposes); American Civil Liberties Union v.
Department of Justice, 321 F. Supp. 2d 24, 30 n.5 (D.D.C. 2004) (finding non-profit public interest group to be “primarily engaged in disseminating information”).

22 On account of these factors, fees associated with responding to FOIA requests are regularly waived for the ACLU. In June 2011, the National Security Division of the Department of Justice granted a fee

For the foregoing reasons, a fee waiver or limitation should be granted. A fee waiver would also fulfill Congress’s legislative intent in amending FOIA, namely to ensure that the Act is liberally construed in favor of granting waivers for noncommercial requesters and to effectuate disclosure of documents of public importance. See Judicial Watch Inc. v. Rossotti, 326 F.3d 1309, 1312 (D.C. Cir. 2003) (“Congress amended FOIA to ensure that it be liberally construed in favor of waivers for noncommercial requesters.”) (internal quotation marks and citation omitted)); OPEN Government Act of 2007, Pub. L. No. 110-175, § 2, 121 Stat. 2524 (finding that “disclosure, not secrecy, is the dominant objective of the Act,” quoting Department of Air Force v. Rose, 425 U.S. 352, 361 (1992)).

Should a total waiver be denied, fees should be “limited to reasonable standard charges for document duplication.” 5 U.S.C. § 552(a)(4)(A)(ii)(II). In the event a fee waiver or reduction of costs is denied, please notify us in advance if the anticipated costs associated with this Request exceed $100.00.

Pursuant to the applicable statute and regulations, we expect a determination regarding expedited processing within ten (10) calendar days. See 5 U.S.C. § 552(a)(6)(E)(ii); 6 C.F.R. § 5.5(d)(4).

waiver to the ACLU with respect to a request for documents relating to the interpretation and implementation of a section of the PATRIOT Act. In October 2010, the Department of the Navy granted a fee waiver to the ACLU with respect to a request for documents regarding the deaths of detainees in U.S. custody. In January 2009, the CIA granted a fee waiver with respect to the same request. In March 2009, the State Department granted a fee waiver to the ACLU with regard to a FOIA request submitted in December 2008. The Department of Justice granted a fee waiver to the ACLU with regard to the same FOIA request. In November 2006, the Department of Health and Human Services granted a fee waiver to the ACLU with regard to a FOIA request submitted in November of 2006. In May 2005, the U.S. Department of Commerce granted a fee waiver to the ACLU with respect to its request for information regarding the radio-frequency identification chips in United States passports. In March 2005, the Department of State granted a fee waiver to the ACLU with regard to a request regarding the use of immigration laws to exclude prominent non-citizen scholars and intellectuals from the country because of their political views, statements, or associations. In addition, the Department of Defense did not charge the ACLU fees associated with FOIA requests submitted by the ACLU in April 2007, June 2006, February 2006, and October 2003. The Department of Justice did not charge the ACLU fees associated with FOIA requests submitted by the ACLU in November 2007, December 2005, and December 2004. Finally, three separate agencies—the Federal Bureau of Investigation, the Office of Intelligence Policy and Review, and the Office of Information and Privacy in the Department of Justice—did not charge the ACLU fees associated with a FOIA request submitted by the ACLU in August 2002.
We further expect your reply to the Request itself within twenty (20) business days, as required under 5 U.S.C. § 552(a)(6)(A)(i). If the Request is denied in whole or in part, we ask that you justify all withholdings by reference to specific exemptions to the FOIA. We also ask that you release all segregable portions of otherwise exempt material.

We reserve the right to appeal a decision to withhold any information, or to deny expedited processing or a waiver of fees.

Good afternoon,

This acknowledges receipt of your December 3, 2014, Freedom of Information Act (FOIA) request (attached) to the Department of Homeland Security (DHS) Privacy Office (PRIV) for records pertaining to alleged or actual mistreatment of children in DHS custody from January 1, 2009, to the present. On December 15, 2014, PRIV forwarded portions of your request to the Office for Civil Rights and Civil Liberties (CRCL) to address. CRCL will conduct a comprehensive search for responsive records and review accordingly.

Your request has been assigned reference number 2015-CRFO-00008. Please refer to this identifier in any future correspondence.

RE:    ICE FOIA Case Number 2015-ICFO-12223

Dear Mr. Lyall:

This acknowledges receipt of your Freedom of Information Act (FOIA) request to U.S. Immigration and Customs Enforcement (ICE), dated December 03, 2014, and to your request for expedited treatment and a waiver of all assessable FOIA fees. Your request was received in this office on December 19, 2014. Specifically, you requested disclosure of records related to abuse and mistreatment of children in the custody of CBP and U.S. Border Patrol from January 2009-present.

Your request for expedited treatment is hereby denied.

Under the DHS FOIA regulations, expedited processing of a FOIA request is warranted if the request involves “circumstances in which the lack of expedited treatment could reasonably be expected to pose an imminent threat to the life or physical safety of an individual,” 6 C.F.R. § 5.5(d)(1)(i), or “an urgency to inform the public about an actual or alleged federal government activity, if made by a person primarily engaged in disseminating information,” 6 C.F.R. § 5.5(d)(1)(ii). Requesters seeking expedited processing must submit a statement explaining in detail the basis for the request, and that statement must be certified by the requester to be true and correct. 6 C.F.R. § 5.5(d)(3).

Your request for expedited processing is denied because you do not qualify for either category under 6 C.F.R. § 5.5(d)(1). You have not established that lack of expedited treatment in this case will pose an imminent threat to the life or physical safety of an individual. The information sought in your request is retrospective and you have not established that the information would have a bearing on immediate or resultant future situations. In addition, you are not primarily engaged in the dissemination of information to the public. You have not shown that you have the ability to educate the public beyond your limited constituency, nor have you established with the requisite specificity why you feel there is an urgency to inform your limited audience about past ICE actions. Qualifying urgency would need to exceed the public’s right to know about government activity generally. Finally, you did not offer any supporting evidence of public interest that is any greater than the public’s general interest in .

Due to the increasing number of FOIA requests received by this office, we may encounter some delay in processing your request. Per Section 5.5(a) of the DHS FOIA regulations, 6 C.F.R. Part 5, ICE processes FOIA requests according to their order of receipt. Although ICE’s goal is to respond within 20 business days of receipt of your request, the FOIA does permit a 10-day extension of this time period. As your request seeks numerous documents that will necessitate a thorough and wide-ranging search, ICE will invoke a 10-day extension for your request, as allowed by Title 5 U.S.C. § 552(a)(6)(B). If you care to narrow the scope of your request, please contact our office. We will make every effort to comply with your request in a timely manner.

As it pertains to your request for a fee waiver, after thoroughly reviewing your letter, ICE has determined that you have not presented a convincing argument that ACLU of Arizona is entitled to a blanket waiver of applicable fees.

The DHS FOIA Regulations at 6 CFR § 5.11(k)(2) set forth six factors to examine in determining whether the applicable legal standard for a fee waiver has been met. We will consider these factors in our evaluation of your request for a fee waiver:

(1) Whether the subject of the requested records concerns “the operations or activities of the government”;

(2) Whether the disclosure is “likely to contribute” to an understanding of government operations or activities;

(3) Whether disclosure of the requested information will contribute to the understanding of the public at large, as opposed to the individual understanding of the requestor or a narrow segment of interested persons;

(4) Whether the contribution to public understanding of government operations or activities will be "significant";

(5) Whether the requester has a commercial interest that would be furthered by the requested disclosure; and

(6) Whether the magnitude of any identified commercial interest to the requestor is sufficiently large in comparison with the public interest in disclosure, that disclosure is primarily in the commercial interest of the requestor.

As a requester, you bear the burden under FOIA of showing that the fee waiver requirements have been met. Based on my review of your December 03, 2014 letter and for the reasons stated herein, I have determined that your fee waiver request is deficient because your request has failed to satisfy factors 4, 5, and 6. Since your request for a fee waiver has failed to satisfy each of the required factors, I am denying your fee waiver request.

Provisions of the FOIA allow us to recover part of the cost of complying with your request. We shall charge you for records in accordance with the DHS Interim FOIA regulations as they apply to non-commercial requesters. As a non-commercial requester, you will be charged 10 cents per page for duplication; the first 100 pages are free, as are the first two hours of search time, after which you will pay the per quarter-hour rate ($4.00 for clerical personnel, $7.00 for professional personnel, $10.25 for managerial personnel) of the searcher. We will construe the submission of your request as an agreement to pay up to $25.00. You will be contacted before any further fees are accrued.
You have the right to appeal the determination to deny your request for expedited treatment and a fee waiver. Should you wish to do so, please send your appeal following the procedures outlined in the DHS regulations at 6 Code of Federal Regulations § 5.9 and a copy of this letter to:

Your appeal must be received within 60 days of the date of this letter. Your envelope and letter should be marked “FOIA Appeal.” Copies of the FOIA and DHS regulations are available at www.dhs.gov/foia.

ICE has queried the appropriate program offices within ICE for responsive records. If any responsive records are located, they will be reviewed for determination of releasability. Please be assured that one of the processors in our office will respond to your request as expeditiously as possible. We appreciate your patience as we proceed with your request.

Good afternoon,

This is a follow up to my initial acknowledgement of your FOIA request for records pertaining to alleged or actual mistreatment of children in DHS custody from January 1, 2009 to the present. At this time, in the interest of providing you any responsive records as quickly as possible, I’d like to ask if you would be willing to narrow the scope of your request in the following ways:

- Item 2 of your request for “All Records related to DHS compliance with child abuse reporting requirements under state and federal law, including but not limited to the Victims of Child Abuse Act of 1990; 42 U.S.C. § 13031; 8 C.F.R. § 81.2-81.3 .17”

  Ø Proposed alternative: “Final versions of records (memoranda, policies, guidelines, etc.) related to DHS compliance with child abuse reporting requirements under state and federal law, including but not limited to the Victims of Child Abuse Act of 1990; 42 U.S.C. § 13031; 8 C.F.R. § 81.2-81.3 .17”

- Item 3 of your request for “3. All Records related to DHS implementation of and compliance with the Prison Rape Elimination Act ("PREA")”

  Ø Proposed alternative: “Final versions of records (memoranda, policies, guidelines, etc.) related to DHS implementation of and compliance with the Prison Rape Elimination Act ("PREA")”

- Date range of January 1, 2009, to present

  Ø Proposed alternative: January 1, 2014, to December 31, 2014 (and then you could subsequently request previous years if you find you require additional information)

Subject: Freedom of Information Act Request No. 2015-073
Expedition Denial

Dear Ms. Ebadolahi and Mr. Lyall:

This acknowledges receipt of your Freedom of Information Act (FOIA) request addressed to the Department of Homeland Security (DHS) Privacy Office (PRIV), dated December 3, 2014, and seeking records related to abuse and mistreatment of children in the custody of U.S. Customs and Border Protection (CBP), and its sub-agency, the U.S. Border Patrol (request enclosed for reference). PRIV referred your request to the DHS Office of Inspector General (OIG) for processing and direct response to you. DHS-OIG received that referral on January 15, 2015, and assigned it the above-referenced tracking number.

In your letter you request expedited processing of your request. For requests to be considered for expedited processing the requester’s letter must indicate the basis on which such treatment is sought. Requests will be taken out of chronological order based on the date of receipt and given expedited treatment only when it is determined that they involve: (1) circumstances in which lack of such treatment could reasonably be expected to pose an imminent threat to the life or physical safety of an individual; or (2) where there is an urgency to inform the public about an actual or alleged federal government activity, if made by a person primarily engaged in disseminating information. See 6 C.F.R. §§ 5.5(d)(1)(i), (ii). Requesters seeking expedited processing are required to submit a statement explaining in detail the basis for their request for expedited processing, and that statement must be certified to be true and correct. See 6 C.F.R. § 5.5(d)(3).

You have requested expedited processing of your request under the Department’s standards permitting expedition for requests involving an imminent threat to the life or physical safety of an individual and urgency to inform the public about an actual or alleged federal government activity, if made by a person primarily engaged in disseminating information. See 6 C.F.R. § 5.5(d)(1)(i) and 6 C.F.R. § 5.5(d)(1)(ii). Based on the information provided, I have determined that your request for expedited processing under both of these standards should be denied. You have not explained how access to the requested records would alleviate a specific threat to the life or physical safety of an individual. In addition, you have not detailed with specificity why you feel there is an urgency to inform the public about this matter. This urgency would need to exceed the public’s right to know about government activity generally. Nor did you offer any supporting evidence of an interest of the public that is any greater than the public’s general interest in allegations of abuse and neglect against CBP. Nevertheless, please be advised that your request has been assigned the above tracking number and a records search is being initiated in the appropriate program office.

Since your request does not meet the criteria for expedited review, your request has been placed in the queue for processing in the order in which it was received. Although DHS-OIG’s goal is to respond within 20 business days of receipt of your request, the FOIA does permit a 10-day extension of this time period under 5 U.S.C. § 552(a)(6)(B). As your request seeks numerous documents that will necessitate a thorough and wide-ranging search, DHS-OIG hereby invokes this 10-day extension for your request, and estimates a response to your request to be provided within 30 business days. Please note, however, that the actual time required to respond to your request depends on how many responsive records and the types of records identified and located in our records search. Unfortunately, we cannot predict exactly when your request will be processed, as we currently have a large backlog of requests. If you care to narrow the scope of your request, please contact our office. We will make every effort to comply with your request in a timely manner.

We have not yet made a decision on your request for a fee waiver. We will do so after we determine whether fees will be assessed for this request.

You have the right to appeal my action regarding your request for expedited processing. Your appeal must be in writing and received within 60 days of the date of this response. Please address any appeal to:

Both the envelope and letter of appeal must be clearly marked, “Freedom of Information Act/Privacy Act Appeal.” Your appeal letter must also clearly identify the OIG’s response. Additional information on submitting an appeal is set forth in the DHS regulations at 6 C.F.R. § 5.9. Please refer to the above-referenced tracking number if you contact us regarding your request. Re: Freedom of Information Act Request / Expedited Processing Requested

To Whom This May Concern:

This letter is a request for records ("Request") made pursuant to the Freedom of Information Act ("FOIA"), 5 U.S.C. § 552 et seq., and the relevant implementing regulations, see 6 C.F.R. § 5 et seq. (Department of Homeland Security, Disclosure of Records and Information). The Request is submitted by the American Civil Liberties Union Foundation of Arizona and the American Civil Liberties Union Foundation of San Diego and Imperial Counties (collectively, "ACLU" or "Requesters").

Requesters seek the disclosure of records related to abuse and mistreatment of children in the custody of U.S. Customs and Border Protection ("CBP") and its sub-agency, the U.S. Border Patrol.

Abuse and mistreatment of children in Border Patrol custody has been documented consistently for years. Advocates and academics have issued numerous reports and filed hundreds of complaints with Department of Homeland Security ("DHS") oversight bodies describing Border Patrol agents’ abusive treatment of children, as well as the inhumane

1 The American Civil Liberties Union Foundation is a 26 U.S.C. § 501(c)(3) organization that provides legal representation free of charge to individuals and organizations in civil rights and civil liberties cases, educates the public about civil rights and civil liberties issues across the country, provides analyses of pending and proposed legislation, directly lobbies legislators, and mobilizes the ACLU’s members to lobby their legislators.
conditions of confinement experienced by both children and adults in Border Patrol detention facilities. To cite just a few recent examples:

- A 2014 policy brief based on interviews with 224 children documented extremely cold temperatures in detention facilities and found that more than half of the children interviewed had been placed in three-point shackles (affixed at the wrists, waist, and ankles).²
- A 2012 report based on interviews with 151 children found nearly all reporting mistreatment suffered while in Border Patrol custody, including verbal and physical abuse by agents and destruction of personal property.³
- A 2011 report based in part on interviews with 801 children documented extremely cold temperatures in detention facilities, severe overcrowding, unsanitary detention conditions, verbal and physical abuse, and denial of food, water and medical treatment.⁴
- A 2009 report based on interviews with 124 unaccompanied children found: eighty-five percent of the children had been held in excessively cold rooms; thirty-three percent received food less than three times per day; twenty-five percent were not offered water; and roughly half were denied the opportunity to call an attorney, consular official, or family member.⁵
- A 2008 report based on interviews with more than 200 children documented overcrowded CBP detention facilities where children were made to sleep on cold floors with minimal or no bedding, denied adequate food and water, and refused access to showers and telephones for days on end.⁶ The report also included multiple accounts of verbal and physical abuse by Border Patrol agents.⁷

On June 11, 2014, the ACLU and partner organizations submitted an administrative complaint on behalf of 116 children to DHS oversight agencies, alleging abuse and mistreatment of children in Border Patrol custody.⁸ Approximately one in four of these children reported

physical abuse, including sexual assault, beatings, and the use of stress positions by Border Patrol agents. More than half of the children reported various forms of verbal abuse, including death threats. Roughly the same number reported denial of medical care, including several who eventually required hospitalization. Many reported being detained without blankets and having to sleep on the floors of unsanitary, overcrowded, and frigid cells. More than eighty percent described inadequate provision of food and water, while thirty percent reported that Border Patrol agents had confiscated their money and/or personal belongings and had not returned them. Many children reported being chained in three-point shackles during transport.

In response to the administrative complaint, CBP leadership and DHS’ Office of Inspector General ("OIG") initially indicated they would conduct a thorough investigation of these allegations. CBP Commissioner R. Gil Kerlikowske, however, immediately began to downplay and even to mischaracterize the allegations. Meanwhile, DHS OIG has issued three "interim reports" concluding that detention conditions and "Border Patrol capacity to provide care" have "improved," while attributing at least some of the unsanitary conditions reported to the children themselves. In response, the American Immigration Council commented, "Considering the extensive documentation of abusive conditions in [Border Patrol detention facilities]—which include the testimonials of those held in these facilities—it is difficult to take the OIG reports seriously."

a full investigation of the inhumane conditions and abuse—DHS OIG announced it would be “curtailing routine inspections.”

The years of persistent allegations of child abuse in CBP detention facilities suggest that CBP policies and practices are plagued by systemic problems. Equally troubling is the apparent failure of DHS oversight agencies to take corrective action and ensure agent accountability following instances of child abuse. Over the past few years, DHS oversight bodies have repeatedly ignored administrative complaints documenting hundreds of individual cases of CBP’s mistreatment of children. For example, from 2009 to 2011, the non-governmental organization No More Deaths and its partner organizations filed seventy-five complaints with DHS oversight agencies regarding Border Patrol abuses; the complainants did not receive a single response.¹⁴

Child advocates have also filed numerous complaints with DHS, only to be ignored outright or, at best, dismissed out of hand. Advocates report that, even when investigations have been conducted, those investigations lack transparency and often involve interviews of children characterized by inappropriate and even hostile interview techniques. Despite the overwhelming number of alleged violations, few Border Patrol agents are known to have faced any disciplinary action for abusing children in custody.¹⁵

By failing to meaningfully investigate or otherwise respond to consistent reports of systemic abuse, DHS and CBP officials have demonstrated a continuing disregard for the civil and human rights of children in their custody, and may have violated state and federal child abuse reporting laws.

The ACLU is a national, non-partisan organization of more than a half million members, countless additional activists and supporters, and fifty-three affiliates nationwide. The ACLU is dedicated to the defense of civil rights and civil liberties and to holding the U.S. government accountable to principles of due process and of the U.S. Constitution in general. The ACLU of Arizona and the ACLU of San Diego & Imperial Counties (“ACLU-SDIC”) are two of the ACLU’s local affiliates.

“Records”—all records or communications preserved in electronic or written form, including but not limited to: agreements; correspondence; documents; letters; notes; messages; emails; faxes; data; videotapes; audio tapes; files; forms; logs; records; guidance; guidelines; evaluations; audits; investigations; reviews; studies; reports; critiques; analysis; internal

memoranda; legal opinions; orders; guidance; directives; training materials; criteria; standards; specifications; rules; instructions; manuals; advisories; protocols; procedures; policies; or other communications.16

“DHS” includes any sub-agency within the Department of Homeland Security, including Immigration and Customs Enforcement (ICE), Customs and Border Protection (CBP) and U.S. Border Patrol, as well as all DHS oversight agencies (including the Office of Inspector General, CBP Internal Affairs, ICE Office of Professional Responsibility, and the Office of Civil Rights and Civil Liberties).

“Child” or “Children” means any individual or individuals under the age of eighteen detained by CBP or U.S. Border Patrol.

RECORDS REQUESTED

Requesters seek disclosure of DHS Records pertaining to alleged or actual mistreatment of children in DHS custody from January 1, 2009 to the present, including any such Records held by Border Patrol, CBP, or any other DHS component agencies, to include at least:

1. All Records relating to any alleged or actual verbal, physical, and/or sexual abuse of children in DHS custody, including, but not limited to, any incidents resulting in hospitalization.

2. All Records related to DHS compliance with child abuse reporting requirements under state and federal law, including but not limited to the Victims of Child Abuse Act of 1990; 42 U.S.C. § 13031; 8 C.F.R. § 81.2–81.3.17

3. All Records related to DHS implementation of and compliance with the Prison Rape Elimination Act (“PREA”).

4. All Records relating to
   a. complaints of alleged or actual verbal, physical, and/or sexual abuse of children in DHS custody, and

16 Please note: Should any responsive Record contain the personal identifying information of any third party, Requesters ask that the agencies redact that information. This Request does not seek any personal or identifying information about any specific individual(s).

17 According to the U.S. Department of Justice, 42 U.S.C. § 13031 “is best read to impose a reporting obligation on all persons who, while engaged in the covered professions and activities on federal lands or in federal facilities, learn of facts that give reason to suspect that child abuse has occurred, regardless of where the abuse might have occurred or where the suspected victim is cared for or resides.” See U.S. DEPARTMENT OF JUSTICE, OFFICE OF LEGAL COUNSEL, ASSISTANT ATTORNEY GENERAL’S MEMORANDUM FOR THE GENERAL COUNSEL, UNITED STATES DEPARTMENT OF VETERANS AFFAIRS 5 (May 29, 2012), available at http://l.usa.gov/1P2OX39. Further, “the statute does not require a covered professional to possess knowledge of the identity of an affected child in order for the reporting duty to apply.” Id. at 2.
b. complaints regarding conditions of confinement experienced by children in DHS custody submitted to any DHS entity by any person, non-governmental organization, state or federal government agency, tribal government, consular office, or any other entity, whether verbal or written, and all Records related or responding to any such complaints.

5. All Records relating to
   a. the three interim reports regarding Oversight of Unaccompanied Alien Children prepared by DHS OIG dated July 30, 2014, August 28, 2014, and October 2, 2014;
   b. DHS OIG’s decision, announced in a press release dated October 6, 2014, that it would begin curtailing its routine inspections at detention facilities for unaccompanied children;
   c. any investigations by any DHS entity resulting from any complaints of alleged or actual verbal, physical, and/or sexual abuse of children in DHS custody; and
   d. any investigations by any DHS entity resulting from any complaints regarding conditions of confinement experienced by children in DHS custody including all policies, protocols, or other guidelines for conducting investigations involving child complainants, and records sufficient to show the current status of all such investigations conducted from January 1, 2009 to the present.

6. All disciplinary Records resulting from alleged or actual misconduct by DHS officials involving children in DHS custody, including any violation of state or federal law or Border Patrol, CBP, and/or DHS guidelines related to the treatment of children in DHS custody or conditions of confinement experienced by children in DHS custody.

With respect to the form of production, see 5 U.S.C. § 552(a)(3)(B), we request that responsive documents be provided electronically in text-searchable, static-image format (PDF), in the best image quality in the agencies’ possession. We further request that reasonable metadata be transmitted along with responsive documents, including but not limited to email attachments, author and recipient information, date and time stamps, and the like.

REQUEST FOR EXPEDITED PROCESSING

Requesters seek Track 1 expedited processing for this FOIA request, pursuant to 5 U.S.C. § 552(a)(6)(E)(i) (“Each agency shall promulgate regulations, pursuant to notice and receipt of public comment, providing for expedited processing of requests for records—(I) in cases in which the person requesting the records demonstrates a compelling need. . . .”).

A “compelling need” exists when “a failure to obtain requested records on an expedited basis under this paragraph could reasonably be expected to pose an imminent threat to the life or physical safety of an individual.” 5 U.S.C. § 552(a)(6)(E)(I); see also 6 C.F.R. § 5.5(d)(1)(i). Without expedited disclosure of the requested records, children in CBP custody may face continuing, imminent threats to their lives or physical safety. This is particularly true given the volume of alleged abuses outlined above. Several of the reports and complaints cited above include allegations of children physically and sexually abused, denied medical care, and/or held in life-threatening conditions. Multiple reports and complaints cite to examples of children who required hospitalization after suffering mistreatment in CBP custody.\textsuperscript{18} There is thus a "compelling need" for the requested records.

A compelling need can also be demonstrated "with respect to a request made by a person primarily engaged in disseminating information," by an "urgency to inform the public concerning actual or alleged Federal Government activity." 5 U.S.C. § 552(a)(6)(E)(v)(II); 6 C.F.R. § 5.5 (d)(I)(ii).

Dissemination of information to the public about actual or alleged government activity is a critical and substantial component of the ACLU’s mission and work. Specifically, the ACLU publishes a continuously updated blog, newsletters, news briefings, “Know Your Rights” documents, and other educational and informational materials that are broadly disseminated to the public.\textsuperscript{19} Such material is widely available to everyone, including individuals, tax-exempt organizations, not-for-profit groups, law students, and faculty, for no cost or for a nominal fee through the ACLU’s public education department and website.

The ACLU’s national website (www.aclu.org) and the sites run by the ACLU of Arizona (www.acluaz.org) and the ACLU of San Diego (www.aclusandiego.org) address civil rights and civil liberties issues in depth, provide features on civil rights and civil liberties issues in the news, and contain many thousands of documents relating to the issues on which the ACLU is focused. These websites also include features highlighting information obtained through the FOIA process.\textsuperscript{20}

In addition, the ACLU publishes a newsletter at least twice a year that reports on and analyzes civil liberties-related current events; this publication is distributed to approximately 450,000 people. The ACLU also publishes a bi-weekly electronic newsletter, which is distributed to approximately 300,000 subscribers (both ACLU members and non-members) by e-mail. Both of these newsletters often include descriptions and analyses of information obtained from the government through FOIA, as well as information about cases, governmental policies, pending legislation, abuses of constitutional rights, and polling data. Cf. Electronic Privacy Information Center v. Department of Defense, 241 F. Supp. 2d 5, 13–14 (D.D.C. 2003) (finding the Electronic Privacy Information Center to be a representative of the news media under Department of Defense regulations because it published a “bi-weekly electronic newsletter that is distributed to over 15,000 readers” about “court cases and legal challenges, government policies, legislation, civil rights, surveys and polls, legislation, privacy abuses, international issues, and trends and technological advancements.”).

\textsuperscript{18} See, e.g., WOMEN’S REFUGEE COMMISSION, HALFWAY HOME, supra note 6, at 11 ("Carmen was apprehended by Border Patrol crossing the river with her five-month-old daughter Lily. She was placed into a cell with no dry clothes or blankets for her or the baby. Carmen requested something to keep the baby warm since it was so cold in the cell and all she had was wet clothing. The agents refused. By morning Lily was turning blue. Carmen begged the agents for help. Finally they looked at baby Lily and took her to the emergency room. Carmen was placed in shackles. Doctors at the emergency room said that Lily was suffering from hypothermia and that she had contracted pneumonia. They gave her antibiotics and kept her in the hospital for 24 hours. During that time Carmen was shackled and nurses were not allowed to give her any food.").

\textsuperscript{19} See, e.g., Dan Gillmor, In Praise of the Almost-Journalists, Slate (Mar. 28, 2014, 12:29 PM), http://slate.me/1jg5YXx (describing ACLU’s efforts to broadly disseminate important civil rights-related news stories) (last visited Dec. 1, 2014).

The ACLU also regularly publishes books, “Know Your Rights” publications, fact sheets, and educational brochures and pamphlets designed to educate the public about civil liberties issues and governmental policies that implicate civil rights and liberties. These materials are specifically designed to be educational and widely disseminated to the public. See Elec. Privacy Info. Ctr., 241 F. Supp. 2d at 11 (finding the Electronic Privacy Information Center to be a news-media requester because of its publication and distribution of seven books on privacy, technology, and civil liberties). The ACLU further disseminates information to the public via social media platforms such as Facebook and Twitter.

Depending on the results of this request, the ACLU plans to disseminate the information it receives among the public through these kinds of publications in these kinds of channels. The ACLU is therefore an organization “primarily engaged in disseminating information” within the meaning of the statute and the relevant regulations—as has been previously recognized in FOIA litigation between the ACLU and the Department of Justice. See, e.g., ACLU v. Department of Justice, 321 F. Supp. 2d 24, 30 n.5 (D.D.C. 2004) (finding that a non-profit, public-interest group that “gathers information of potential interest to a segment of the public, uses its editorial skills to turn the raw material into a distinct work, and distributes that work to an audience” is “primarily engaged in disseminating information” (internal citation omitted)).

Moreover, this request concerns actual or alleged federal government activity that is a matter of current exigency. As discussed above, allegations of the abuse and neglect of children in CBP custody have persisted for years. As these conditions have worsened, the maltreatment of children in CBP custody and the dysfunction of DHS oversight agencies have attracted considerable, sustained media coverage and public attention in recent months. 21

For all of the foregoing reasons, expedited processing of this Request is warranted and should be granted.

Requesters hereby certify that the foregoing is true and correct to the best of their knowledge and belief. 5 U.S.C. § 552(a)(6)(E)(vi); 6 C.F.R. § 5.5(d)(3).

REQUEST FOR A WAIVER OR LIMITATION OF SEARCH AND REVIEW FEES

Requesters further seek a waiver of processing (search and review) fees because disclosure of these records is in the public interest and because the ACLU qualifies as a "representative of the news media." See 5 U.S.C. § 552(a)(4)(A)(iii) ("Documents shall be furnished without any charge or at a charge reduced below the fees established under clause (ii) if disclosure of the information is in the public interest because it is likely to contribute significantly to public understanding of the operations or activities of the government and is not primarily in the commercial interest of the requester."); 6 C.F.R. § 5.11(d)(1) (search fees shall not be charged "for requests by educational institutions . . . or representatives of the news media"); id. § 5.11(k)(1) ("Records responsive to a request will be furnished without charge or at a charge reduced below that established under paragraph (c) of this section where a component determines, based on all available information, that the requester has demonstrated that (i) disclosure of the requested information is in the public interest because it is likely to contribute significantly to public understanding of the operations or activities of the government; and (ii) disclosure of the information is not primarily in the commercial interest of the requester."). As discussed below, federal agencies routinely grant such fee waivers for FOIA requests made by the ACLU for these reasons.

At a minimum, should a total fee waiver be denied, "fees should be limited to reasonable standard charges for document duplication" because the ACLU is a "representative of the news media" and the records are not sought for commercial use. 5 U.S.C. § 552(a)(4)(A)(ii)(II).

A. Release of the requested records is in the public interest.

The records requested will contribute significantly to public understanding of the government's operations or activities. Under 6 C.F.R. § 5.11(k)(2), the following factors are to be considered in determining whether a disclosure is in the public interest: (i) whether the subject of the requested records concerns "the operations or activities of the government"; (ii) whether the disclosure is "likely to contribute" to an understanding of government operations or activities; (iii) whether disclosure of the requested information will contribute to "public understanding," that is, "the understanding of a reasonably broad audience of persons interested in the subject"; and (iv) whether disclosure is likely to contribute "significantly" to public understanding of government operations or activities. See 6 C.F.R. § 5.11(k)(2)(i)–(iv). Each of these considerations is satisfied here.

First, the records requested pertain directly to the operations and activities of the federal government (specifically, CBP and one of its subcomponents, the U.S. Border Patrol).

Second, this Request is "likely to contribute" to an understanding of government operations or activities, specifically by helping the public determine whether minors encountered, apprehended, and/or detained by CBP or the U.S. Border Patrol are treated in a manner that comports with the U.S. Constitution and other federal laws, and whether CBP personnel are properly investigated and held accountable when they fail to respect those laws.

Third, disclosure of the requested information will contribute to "the understanding of a reasonably broad audience of persons interested in the subject" of how minors in CBP custody are treated. Among other things, the ACLU intends to publish responsive records and analyze specific documents to raise public awareness of CBP's treatment of minors, generally.

Finally, disclosure will contribute "significantly" to the public understanding of CBP and Border Patrol treatment of minors in custody. As noted, the question of minors' treatment in CBP custody has garnered significant and sustained public and media attention, yet much remains unknown about this critical human rights issue.

Requesters have thus established, "with reasonable specificity[,] that [their] request pertains to operations of the government," and "the informative value of a request depends not on there being certainty of what the documents will reveal, but rather on the requesting party having explained with reasonable specificity how those documents would increase public knowledge of the functions of the government." _Citizens for Responsibility and Ethics in Washington v. Department of Health and Human Services_, 481 F. Supp. 2d 99, 107–109 (D.D.C. 2006).

B. Disclosure of the information requested is not in Requesters' commercial interest.

Disclosure of the information requested is not in the Requesters' commercial interest. Any information obtained as a result of this FOIA request will be made available to the public at no cost.

C. The ACLU qualifies as a representative of the news media.

The ACLU meets the statutory and regulatory definitions of a "representative of the news media" because it is an "entity that gathers information of potential interest to a segment of the public, uses its editorial skills to turn the raw materials into a distinct work, and distributes that work to an audience." 5 U.S.C. § 552(a)(4)(A)(ii)(II); see also, e.g., _National Security Archive v. Department of Defense_, 880 F.2d 1381, 1387 (D.C. Cir. 1989). The ACLU is a "representative of the news media" for the same reasons that it is "primarily engaged in the dissemination of information." _See Electronic Privacy Information Center_, 241 F. Supp. 2d at 10–15 (finding non-profit public interest group that disseminated an electronic newsletter and published books was a "representative of the news media" for FOIA purposes); _American Civil Liberties Union v. Department of Justice_, 321 F. Supp. 2d 24, 30 n.5 (D.D.C. 2004) (finding non-profit public interest group to be "primarily engaged in disseminating information"). 22

Various federal courts

22 On account of these factors, fees associated with responding to FOIA requests are regularly waived for the ACLU. In June 2011, the National Security Division of the Department of Justice granted a fee

For the foregoing reasons, a fee waiver or limitation should be granted. A fee waiver would also fulfill Congress’s legislative intent in amending FOIA, namely to ensure that the Act is liberally construed in favor of granting waivers for noncommercial requesters and to effectuate disclosure of documents of public importance. See Judicial Watch Inc. v. Rosotti, 326 F.3d 1309, 1312 (D.C. Cir. 2003) (“Congress amended FOIA to ensure that it be liberally construed in favor of waivers for noncommercial requesters.”) (internal quotation marks and citation omitted); OPEN Government Act of 2007, Pub. L. No. 110-175, § 2, 121 Stat. 2524 (finding that “disclosure, not secrecy, is the dominant objective of the Act,” quoting Department of Air Force v. Rose, 425 U.S. 352, 361 (1992)).

Should a total waiver be denied, fees should be “limited to reasonable standard charges for document duplication.” 5 U.S.C. § 552(a)(4)(A)(ii)(II). In the event a fee waiver or reduction of costs is denied, please notify us in advance if the anticipated costs associated with this Request exceed $100.00.

Pursuant to the applicable statute and regulations, we expect a determination regarding expedited processing within ten (10) calendar days. See 5 U.S.C. § 552(a)(6)(E)(ii)(I); 6 C.F.R. § 5.5(d)(4).

waiver to the ACLU with respect to a request for documents relating to the interpretation and implementation of a section of the PATRIOT Act. In October 2010, the Department of the Navy granted a fee waiver to the ACLU with respect to a request for documents regarding the deaths of detainees in U.S. custody. In January 2009, the CIA granted a fee waiver with respect to the same request. In March 2009, the State Department granted a fee waiver to the ACLU with regard to a FOIA request submitted in December 2008. The Department of Justice granted a fee waiver to the ACLU with regard to the same FOIA request. In November 2006, the Department of Health and Human Services granted a fee waiver to the ACLU with regard to a FOIA request submitted in November of 2006. In May 2005, the U.S. Department of Commerce granted a fee waiver to the ACLU with respect to its request for information regarding the radio-frequency identification chips in United States passports. In March 2005, the Department of State granted a fee waiver to the ACLU with regard to a request regarding the use of immigration laws to exclude prominent non-citizen scholars and intellectuals from the country because of their political views, statements, or associations. In addition, the Department of Defense did not charge the ACLU fees associated with FOIA requests submitted by the ACLU in April 2007, June 2006, February 2006, and October 2003. The Department of Justice did not charge the ACLU fees associated with FOIA requests submitted by the ACLU in November 2007, December 2005, and December 2004. Finally, three separate agencies—the Federal Bureau of Investigation, the Office of Intelligence Policy and Review, and the Office of Information and Privacy in the Department of Justice—did not charge the ACLU fees associated with a FOIA request submitted by the ACLU in August 2002.
We further expect your reply to the Request itself within twenty (20) business days, as required under 5 U.S.C. § 552(a)(6)(A)(i). If the Request is denied in whole or in part, we ask that you justify all withholdings by reference to specific exemptions to the FOIA. We also ask that you release all segregable portions of otherwise exempt material.

We reserve the right to appeal a decision to withhold any information, or to deny expedited processing or a waiver of fees.

Subject: RE: CRCL FOIA Request Acknowledgement - 2015-CRFO-00008

Dear Mr. Pineiro,

We are in receipt of your messages of December 16, 2014, January 9, 2015, and January 20, 2015. We are writing in response to your inquiry from January 9, regarding our willingness to narrow the scope of our FOIA request. Specifically, you asked if we would be willing to narrow Item 2 of our request to cover only “final versions” of records related to DHS compliance with child abuse reporting requirements; narrow Item 3 of our request to cover only “final versions” of records related to DHS implementation of and compliance with the Prison Rape Elimination Act (“PREA”); and narrow the date range of our request to cover only January 1, 2014 to December 31, 2014, with the option to request records from previous years if we “require additional information.”

As to your inquiry regarding Items 2 and 3 we are not willing to modify the request to cover only “final versions” of records. As noted in our request, we are concerned that DHS components and officials, including the Office of Border Patrol, are not in compliance with applicable child protection laws, including the Victims of Child Abuse Act of 1990 and PREA. We are also concerned that the mistreatment of children in DHS custody has gone unaddressed for many years and continues to the present in part because of the agency’s failure to properly identify, report, and respond to allegations and instances of abuse and neglect. If that is the case, determining the past and current extent of DHS compliance with child protection laws is a critical and central purpose of this FOIA request. Limiting our request to only “final versions” of records would likely exclude important documents, communications, and other records that would inform that inquiry. As such, we cannot accept your proposal.

For many of the same reasons, we are also unwilling to limit the scope of our request to records from January 1, 2014 to December 31, 2014. We are concerned that widespread abuse and neglect of children in DHS custody has persisted for years, without adequate or appropriate response from DHS oversight agencies, the Office of Refugee Resettlement (ORR), and state child protective services. Last July, in response to an ACLU complaint submitted on behalf of 116 unaccompanied children, DHS officials suggested that the children’s complaints regarding conditions, though accurate, were largely a function of the high numbers of children arriving and the resulting lack of available ORR bed space.1 As noted in our FOIA request, those claims are contradicted by numerous human rights reports and individual complaints describing the same abuses and neglect going back years – beyond the range of our request – and completely unrelated to the events of last summer. Limiting the entire FOIA request to only one year will simply not allow us to determine the degree and extent of these systemic deficiencies. For the foregoing reasons, and notwithstanding your offer to allow us to request records from previous years if we subsequently “require additional information,” we cannot agree to delay or otherwise limit our request as you propose.
It is our expectation, however, that CRCL would, at a minimum, begin production of the documents encompassed by your proposal of January 9, given the agency’s acknowledgement that those documents are appropriate for production. If you chose to prioritize those documents, we have no objection, but we will be seeking full production of the records described in our original FOIA request.

Thank you for your inquiry. If you have any questions, please contact me at jlyall@acluaz.org or 520-344-7857.

Sincerely,

James Lyall

Good afternoon,

This is a follow up to my initial acknowledgement of your FOIA request for records pertaining to alleged or actual mistreatment of children in DHS custody from January 1, 2009 to the present. At this time, in the interest of providing you any responsive records as quickly as possible, I’d like to ask if you would be willing to narrow the scope of your request in the following ways:

- Item 2 of your request for “All Records related to DHS compliance with child abuse reporting requirements under state and federal law, including but not limited to the Victims of Child Abuse Act of 1990; 42 U.S.C. § 13031; 8 C.F.R. § 81.2-81.3 .17”

  Ø Proposed alternative: “Final versions of records (memoranda, policies, guidelines, etc.) related to DHS compliance with child abuse reporting requirements under state and federal law, including but not limited to the Victims of Child Abuse Act of 1990; 42 U.S.C. § 13031; 8 C.F.R. § 81.2-81.3 .17”

- Item 3 of your request for “3. All Records related to DHS implementation of and compliance with the Prison Rape Elimination Act ("PREA")”

  Ø Proposed alternative: “Final versions of records (memoranda, policies, guidelines, etc.) related to DHS implementation of and compliance with the Prison Rape Elimination Act ("PREA")”

- Date range of January 1, 2009, to present

  Ø Proposed alternative: January 1, 2014, to December 31, 2014 (and then you could subsequently request previous years if you find you require additional information)

Please feel free to contact me anytime if you would like to discuss or have any questions or concerns.

Respectfully,

Ms. Aeron J. Pineiro
Good afternoon,

This acknowledges receipt of your December 3, 2014, Freedom of Information Act (FOIA) request (attached) to the Department of Homeland Security (DHS) Privacy Office (PRIV) for records pertaining to alleged or actual mistreatment of children in DHS custody from January 1, 2009, to the present. On December 15, 2014, PRIV forwarded portions of your request to the Office for Civil Rights and Civil Liberties (CRCL) to address. CRCL will conduct a comprehensive search for responsive records and review accordingly.

Your request has been assigned reference number 2015-CRFO-00008. Please refer to this identifier in any future correspondence.

Regards,

Ms. Aeron J. Pineiro
