1	Jesus E. Castro Romo	30	16-Nov-10	Santa Cruz County	AZ	Mexican	Survived shooting by a Border Patrol agent after crossing into the U.S. as part of a group of undocumented immigrants. The group decided to return to Mexico after seeing Border Patrol agents on horseback, but was then detected by patrol. Romo made a "short attempt to flee" but then stopped and surrendered. After he surrendered, Romo was hit by the agent and then shot. *UPDATE: In a Feb. 5, 2015 ruling, Federal District Court Judge James Soto ordered the $497,000 payment to Jesus Castro Romo. In his ruling, Soto requires the government to pay Castro for the injuries caused by the shooting, subsequent treatment and medication costs, pain and suffering, and loss of income over the course of the next 38 years. Those costs totaled $553,000, but the judge cut it by 10%, finding that Castro, who was in the act of illegally crossing the border, was 10% responsible for his injuries. QUICK ANALYSIS:

Since January 2010, at least 55 individuals have died as the result of an encounter with CBP officials (this figure includes the deaths reported by The Arizona Republic in Dec. 13, 2013). At least 50 deaths resulted from the use of force or coercion.

- The remaining 5 deaths seem health related: in 2013, one man collapsed and died in a secondary inspection area at a port of entry and another died accidentally by ingesting a packet of drugs that ruptured in his system; and in 2014, one individual died of an apparent suicide while in custody, another was found unresponsive in a holding cell at a Border Patrol checkpoint, and one suffered a seizure while in custody in a BP station.

- In 7 of the use of force cases, it appears the Border Patrol agent was off-duty: in 2011, one shot and killed his wife's cousin in an argument; in 2014, an agent killed his wife's lover, another agent killed an individual in a card game shootout, a third agent shot and killed his estranged wife in front of his children, and a fourth agent shot and killed his neighbor after believing he had been speeding in a vehicle in his neighborhood; in 2015, a CBP officer shot her boyfriend whom she alleged was hitting her. (In 2015, a sixth agent held two people hostage in a domestic dispute and shot and injured both individuals, one critically). The final off-duty case ties a border patrol agent to the Gulf Cartel and the decapitated body of a man found off the shore of San Padre Island in June, 2014. When arrested in his home the agent was found to have $90,000, around a kilo of cocaine, and several handguns.

- In one case, Border Patrol Air and Marine agents chased and crashed into a boat, making it capsize. About 20 people fell into the water and one woman drowned.

In addition, since January 2010, at least 39 individuals (including a minor punched in the stomach) have been seriously injured during an encounter with CBP. Other cases of non-lethal force include an instance where a Border Patrol agent shot across the U.S.-Mexico border, near Naco, Arizona, and it is unknown if there were any injuries and in another case, an off-duty officer pulled out his gun and pointed it at another driver in an act of road rage.

The Arizona Republic (in their Dec. 13, 2013 story) noted that 42 individuals have been killed by Border Patrol agents since Feb. 2005 and, "In none of the 42 deaths is any agent or officer publicly known to have faced consequences — not from the Border Patrol, not from Customs and Border Protection or Homeland Security, not from the Department of Justice, and not, ultimately, from criminal or civil courts.") (<http://www.azcentral.com/news/politics/articles/20131212arizona-border-patrol-deadly-force-investigation.html>).

At least 19 of the individuals who have died since January 2010-2016 were U.S. citizens (AZ Republic counts 13 fatalities of US citizens between 2005-2016)

Four of the individuals who have died were in a moving vehicle when their car was shot at or Tasered. One victim was a U.S. citizen, 32-year-old mother of five. Two tribal members were shot and injured in a moving vehicle in 2014.

In at least seven of the above cases, BP agents were responding to a back-up request by local law enforcement officials (e.g., a domestic dispute, request for interpretation, handling a subject who is under psychological duress, backup in search for escaped convict).

In at least 11 of the fatalities and one of the serious injuries, CBP allege individuals were throwing rocks.

One death and three injuries resulted from a CBP boat colliding with a smuggling boat in an attempt to stop the boat and apprehend its passengers. One death was BP agent Nicholas Ivie, who was shot to death by "friendly fire". Another death, not counted above, was a BP agent who committed suicide after ransacking a woman, her daughter and another teen suicide after raping a woman, her daughter and another teen.

6 of the people that have been killed by the CBP were standing on Mexican soil: 1) Sergio Adrian Hernandez-Guereca, 2) Ramses Barron Torres, 3) Jose Alfredo Yañez Reyes, 4) Juan Pablo Perez Santillán, 5) Guillermo Arévalo Pedroza and 6) José Antonio Elena Rodriguez. All were Mexican citizens. In addition, a Border Patrol agent shot across the U.S.-Mexico border, near Naco, Arizona, but it is unknown if there were any injuries (October 19, 2015)

METHODOLOGY:

Incidents under 'Fatal Encounters' include all known deaths reported by media outlets and/or by U. S. Customs and Border Protection's Office of Public Affairs, recorded from January 2010 to July 2016. This number includes on duty and off duty use of force deaths, as well as medical related deaths that were reported while the deceased were in CBP custody.
